NAMULLIM

With 4 independent albums under his belt and a string of international underground hits to his credit, Namullim's (pronounced Nam-uh-lum) reputation as a singer & songwriter and as one of Canada's up-and-coming music stars is one that remains uncontested. With the release of his latest double A-side single, "Suspicion/I Don't Think" and the forthcoming release "The Summer Song", Namullim has proven he's got what it takes to go the distance.

Opening the single with the euphoric floor filler, "Suspicion", Namullim hints at the musical stylings of Goldfrapp, Har Mar and Fischerspooner whilst "I Don't Think" borders UK Garage and US R&B and pulls inspiration from both Artful Dodger and mega US R&B producer Rodney Jerkins.

Proving that he's not a one hit wonder will be no challenge with the release of the fan favourite, "The Summer Song".

"The Summer Song", an ode to living in the land of the midnight sun, has been called "really chilled & relaxed, even sexual" (MySpace User) and is considered by many to be a highlight of his forthcoming album, "Bound By Gravity". With the unique combination of hypnotic sweltering bass, entrancing vocals and powerful lyrics, "The Summer Song" is going to turn heads. Comparing this song to any other wouldn't do it justice, at best, it can be described as 'ambient R&B'. To appreciate the song, you have to experience it yourself.

But not neglecting his love of remixes, "The Summer Song" will have a host of club-ready remixes set to light-up dance floors worldwide.

With the production aid of Norm Glowach of SpiritWalker Productions in Yellowknife the songs showcase his "comfortably awkward" (RC, 95.3 FM, Sweden) songwriting abilities, a wry wit and acute sense of sarcasm. If you haven't heard of Namullim before, think of him as a cross between Beck's subtle vocal quirkiness, the electronic fanfare of Iio with his own twist.
