SHORTWAVE FADE

The recently formed four piece from Leicester began life in the basement where long time friends Chris Holloway (vocals / guitar) and Ben Allen (guitar / piano / synth) began writing and recording together. Joined by Rich Herrington (drums) and Robb Sheppard (bass / vocals) the band strives for epic and compelling songs. Fusing edgy guitars with pulsing electronic melodies, the live soundscape of Shortwave Fade is often hard to describe, though comparisons have been drawn to the likes of early Mansun, Doves, Mew and Soulwax. Recent support slots have included Keane and The Subways among others.

After releasing their first self-produced single 'Anything to Anyone' in downloadable format through indie label Shifty Disco, the band are now looking to the future with three new track releases as part of an EP scheduled for this summer. The first of these: 'Stay as You Are' is available now.
